Dear Hiring Team at Company,

As an analytical and resilient business development specialist with extensive experience in commodities and fintech, I am excited to apply for the role. My background in originating and executing cross-border transactions aligns well with the demands of this position.

I possess strong skills in transaction execution, including M&A, divestments, and financing processes. My proficiency in preparing execution materials and performing financial analysis using advanced Excel sets me apart as a candidate.

In my previous roles, I successfully structured and executed multiple high-stakes transactions, consistently delivering results under pressure. My ability to interface with senior stakeholders and advisors has been key to my success in aligning interests and mitigating risks.

I am available for an interview at your earliest convenience and am willing to travel on short notice to meet your needs.

Kind regards,

JB RIVERO PÉGAITAZ
